

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy explains how Memonah Hanif Foundation collects, uses, protects and shares personal information. Information collected may include names, contact details, donation records, volunteer information, cookies and website analytics. Data is used to process donations, manage volunteers, improve services and comply with legal obligations. Information is never sold and is shared only where necessary with payment providers, auditors or authorities as required by law. Appropriate security measures are implemented. Users may request access, correction or deletion where applicable.